

Fenway Civic Association Presents:

May 4th Annual Birdwalk and Spring
Blossom Ramble

Join us for our Annual Spring Birdwalk and a Special Spring Tree Ramble
Saturday, May 4th, from 7:00-11:30 a.m.

7:00 a.m. Birdwalk, Flagpole at the Fenway Victory Gardens

Thrill to the sight, sounds, and array of birds that inhabit the Back Bay Fens each spring- all levels welcome on this walk, guided by Naturalist and Historian Gerry Wright.

Bring your binoculars! Birding will start at 7:00 a.m. - meet at the flagpole at the Fenway Victory Gardens (across from 11 Park Drive).

10:00 a.m. Tree Walk, Shattuck Visitor Center, 125 The Fenway (coffee and refreshments inside!)

Join FCA and Forester Mathew Cahill from Boston Natural Areas Network for a Spring Blossom Ramble, starting at 10:00 a.m. at the Shattuck Visitor Center, 125 The Fenway. The flowers of dogwoods and cherry trees capture our attention, but there are many more trees that bloom in spring. We will admire trees and learn why they flower the way they do.

Tree walk co-sponsored by Boston Natural Areas Network and The Emerald Necklace Conservancy

Special thanks to Whole Foods Market (Symphony) for coffee and refreshments

Both events will be held rain or shine and are free and open to the public
